GM-UAW Accord on Pact Due

DETROIT (AP)—This is decision day for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union.

Do they reach agreement on a new three-year, three-package contract or do a rash of crippling local-level strikes erupt into a nationwide walkout?

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton said "it looks like a long day." Both he and UAW President Walter P. Reuther said progress was being made as they recessed bargaining shortly after Monday midnight.

Today is decision day because the UAW's 280-member General Motors Council has been summoned to meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday to approve or reject a new contract. The council is made up of local union presidents and shop committeemen from across the country.

Effects of local-level walkouts have spilled over into Canada. General Motors of Canada announced Monday it was furloughing 6,000 today at its Oshawa plants which normally depend upon U.S. factories for parts.

There was no hope of getting the world's No. 1 auto maker back

Katangans Claim Fall Of U.N. Base

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga's military forces claimed today they had wrested the big U.N. base at Kamina from its Irish and Swedish defenders after a six-day battle.

The U.N. chief in Katanga, Con- or Cruise O'Brien, insisted however, that the hard-pressed defenders still held the air strip in that vital base 280 miles northwest of Elisabethville.

As O'Brien met with reporters at his headquarters in Elisabethville, capital of secessionist Katanga, a Katanga plane attacked the building. Its bombs fell wide but the headquarters grounds were raked by machinegun fire. There were no casualties.

The claim that Kamina had fallen to the attacking Katangans, reportedly led by white officers, was made by Katanga's military radio.

A U.N. spokesman in this Congo capital said there was nothing in messages from Kamina to indicate that the garrison had surrendered.

Committee Starts Its Work Early

Although the official opening of Salem's 1961 United Fund Drive is still two weeks away, the advanced gifts committee kicked off its drive Monday night to raise half the total overall goal of $81,767.

The 28 members of the advanced gifts committee, led by Co-captains Rolland F. Webber and Robert W. Campbell, held their opening meeting last night at the Lape Hotel. James T. Schaeffer and Horace K. Schwartz, co-chairmen for this year's United Fund Drive, said this was the first time in the history of the drive here that a kick-off rally was held by the advanced gifts committee.

Byron Maxson, Community Fund Association secretary, distributed materials to the committee members who are teamed as follows:

G. B. Emery and R. S. McCulloch, Jr., R. S. McCulloch, Sr., and Floyd McKee, Ray Pearce and Norman Eckfeld, Charles Haldi and L. H. Colley, Al Tame and Henry Anderson, Victor Zerbs, Jr., and James Wilson, Sr., E. M. Stephenson and William McKay, Glenn Harding and Joseph Pidgeon, John Mulford and Gene Young, Richard Strain and Harold Musser, George Bowman and James Wilson, Jr., Bryce Kendall and George Rogers, Troy Cope and James Pidgeon.

Among those to be contacted by this committee are manufacturers, various businessmen and certain "friends of the community." Plans are to have the advanced gifts committee complete its solicitations by the time the general drive starts Oct. 3.

Auspicious Start Planned
The big kick-off dinner for the United Fund Drive will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 3, in the Centennial Park swimming pool. A victory meeting is scheduled for 10 days later.

The kick-off dinner will be catered inside the pool and several unusual features are being planned for United Fund workers, all

Crime 'Frankensteins' Cited by McElroy

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy told more than 100 area pastors Monday night that organized crime has created five "Frankensteins." He said the "Frankenstein" monsters were:

1. Community complacency and tolerance for the so-called smoke shop or pool room gambling.
2. The theory and practice that candidates for public office of both parties might accept campaign contributions from any source.
3. The compulsive gambler.
4. The relationship between the gambling syndicate and other criminal activities.
5. The effect of organized crime upon commerce and industry and the otherwise unaffected citizens.

U.N. Group To Carry On Katanga Talks

Unit Arrives In Ndola; Crash of Dag's Plane Probed

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—A high-ranking U.N. delegation arrived in Ndola today seeking to carry through the Katanga peace talks shattered by U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's death in a plane crash.

The chief U.N. negotiator is Mahmoud Khari, chief of civil operations in the Congo.

He flew to Ndola from Leopoldville while U.N. intelligence experts probed riddles of the wreck that killed the secretary-general.

To Aid In Identification

A British government statement said a further task for the delegation will be to help identify the mutilated bodies of some of Hammarskjold's entourage.

The statement said Britain is doing all possible to facilitate contact between the delegation and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga, who pulled out Monday after an overnight stay at this neutral border town.

Tshombe returned to Katanga after vainly waiting for 24 hours for Hammarskjold to arrive for peace talks. Only late Monday did Tshombe and the world know Hammarskjold was dead in the shattered wreck of his aircraft.

Salvage workers pulled another body from the wreck this morning making a total of 15 dead. There is one survivor.

Lt. Col. Ben Matlick, U.S. air attaché from Leopoldville, who inspected the wreck today, said he was convinced that "speculation that the plane may have been shot down was groundless."

Drew Banner Headlines

The possibility of sabotage or armed attack had drawn banner headlines in Rhodesian newspapers. The lone survivor, Harry Julien, an American U.N. security guard, was quoted as saying a series of explosions shook the four-engine DC6B before it plunged into a forest reserve north of town and burned.

Seasoned pilots who viewed the fire-blackened wreckage agreed with Matlick. They said it looked like typical results of a crash caused in a landing approach by loss of power or faulty instruments.

NDola hospital spokesman said the survivor is as comfortable as could be expected, adding: "He still is very ill and is under heavy sedation. He has not spoken since he was brought here."

Col. Maurice Barber, civil aviation director of the British-run Central African Federation, heads the inquiry into the crash. The U.N. intelligence work is directed

Seek To Bypass Red Veto Power Rusk, Stevenson Huddle On Threatened U.N. Paralysis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson worked urgently behind the scenes today to keep the United Nations from being paralyzed by the Soviet Union on appointment of a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Rusk was due to hold his first meeting here with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko this afternoon when the U.N. General Assembly begins its annual session.

He wanted to talk with Gromyko about the crisis created by Hammarskjold's death as well as the Berlin crisis, which they have agreed to discuss.

Western diplomats saw "little chance the Soviet government would agree to work with Allied and neutral nations in choosing a new secretary-general speedily. Conversations are therefore underway, they reported, to find some means of assembly action to temporarily bypass the veto power which the Soviet Union can use in the Security Council to block any new appointment.

In the view of Rusk and other Western leaders here the situation is little short of desperate. Without an administrative head the secretariat, which is the action arm of the world organization, cannot function effectively much longer. This is particularly true in the strife-torn Congo, where a breakdown of U.N. authority would probably result in civil war in which the great powers might become engaged.

Disorganization of the U.N. machinery is assumed by U.S. leaders to be Moscow's goal. They are deeply worried about the worldwide dangers of a prolonged dispute over the issue.

Under the U.N. charter, a new secretary-general must be chosen by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council. Like the other big powers, the Soviet Union has a veto in the Security Council. It opposes a single secretary-gen-

U.N. Clash Looms On New Chief

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The prospect of an East-West clash over a new U.N. secretary-general to succeed Dag Hammarskjold cast a shadow over the opening of the U.N. General Assembly today. Already faced with grave cold war issues, the session may be the most crucial in the United Nations' history.

Within hours after Hammarskjold's death in an African plane crash Monday, stunned delegates began casting about for a way to avoid an East-West deadlock that would paralyze the secretariat, the administrative arm of the world organization.

There was speculation that the assembly might delegate a board of ranking U.N. officials to make decisions until a new secretary-general can be chosen.

Most of those being mentioned as candidates came from the non-aligned nations of Asia and Africa, who now hold almost a majority in the assembly. There was no indication of firm support behind any one of them.

A new secretary-general must get past the threat of a Soviet veto, which the Soviets could exercise if they decide, as expected, to push their plans for reorganizing the United Nations and curbing the powers of the secretariat developed by Hammarskjold.

A new secretary-general must be nominated by the Security Council with the agreement of all five permanent members — the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China. Then the nomination must be approved by the General Assembly.

The assembly was confronted

DiSalle Rips GOP 'Lack Of Vision'

EAST LIVERPOOL—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told some 1,200 Democrats at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner Ohio must spend more money to keep up with other states in industry, education, mental health and development of natural resources.

The governor accused the Republican-dominated legislature of lack of vision in opposing his program.

He urged those attending the dinner Monday night to join him in "telling the story with the theme: If you have confidence in Ohio's future, prepare for it now."

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, who was to have shared the speaker's platform with DiSalle, was unable to attend because of commitments in Washington. Mrs. Hays was present, however.

President Kennedy wired, "It is unfortunate that the consideration of important legislation for which he has responsibility prevents him from being with you. However, I want to take this opportunity to extend my warmest best wishes to all those gathered this evening and to Cong. Hays for his effective role in the work of the Congress and of this administration."

The 18th District congressman from Fushing was working with the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the arms control bill.

The president's telegram was read by Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman. Hays and the acting speaker of the House also were regrets. It was the first such dinner that Rep. Hays was unable to attend in nine years.

DiSalle assailed the Republican-controlled legislature for opposing his capital improvement programs and made it plain that Ohio must spend more money on public education, roads and mental health to keep up with the rest of the states.

But he failed to give a hint on the big question of whether or not he will seek re-election next year. DiSalle, the first governor to serve a four-year term, said only "I have no statement to make at this time" when asked if he will enter the gubernatorial race next year. His term expires in January, 1963.

Among the state officials present were Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy and Theodore R. Saker, first assistant.

Long lists of county and district candidates and office holders were introduced.

Atty. Guy J. Mauro of Salem and the Columbiana Women's Democratic Club were presented special public service awards by Atty. Paul Tobin of East Liver-

Whirling Storm Has Winds Up To 150 m.p.h.

Warnings Posted From New Jersey To Virginia Capes

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Esther churned toward the North Carolina coast today triggering the start of a mass evacuation from dangerous low-lying areas.

The whirling giant carried winds up to 150 miles per hour.

"Safety precautions should be started now," the Weather Bureau warned. "Some escape routes will become flooded as waters rise today and tonight."

Hurricane warnings were raised this morning from Cherry Point, N.C., northward to the Virginia Capes. Gale force winds were forecast for that portion of the coast and were forecast to increase to hurricane strength—75 miles per hour.

Gale warnings were extended northward from the Virginia Capes to Cape May, N.J., and over the south half of Chesapeake Bay. Hurricane watch continues northward from Myrtle Beach, S.C., to Cherry Point and from the Virginia Capes to Cape May.

At 8 a.m., the Weather Bureau said the big storm was 335 statute miles southeast of Cape Hatteras and bearing toward the coast at 14 miles an hour.

Rising tides and seas already were buffeting this coast line, known as the graveyard of the Atlantic.

But the Weather Bureau said the northwesterly curve of the storm could carry the eye, or center of the storm, just off the coast.

Coastal residents, veterans of many a big blow, worked throughout the night, moving house trailers to higher ground at Morehead City, about 75 miles from Cape Hatteras.

Tides Above Normal

Tides were running up to three feet above normal and the ocean was rough with heavy swells. The Coast Guard said the swells have existed for "two or three days," possibly caused by earlier hurricanes.

The Weather Bureau warned that "Hurricane Esther is dangerous with maximum winds 150 miles per hour near the center. Gales extend outward some 350

S. Viet Nam Town Burned By Rebels

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP)—In their boldest stroke of South Viet Nam's civil war, Communist rebels attacked and burned the capital of Phuoc Thanh Province, the government said today.

The daring raid, the first on any provincial capital, was staged early Monday on the capital, Phuoc Vinh, the government said. The city is only 60 miles north of this capital.

The Communist Viet Congo raiders held the town for several hours in pre-dawn darkness, burning and ransacking several provincial buildings. One source estimated 1,500 guerrillas took part in the attack. The government said the raiders attacked to liberate rebel prisoners.

It marked a new height in violence in the areas north of Saigon where the rebels are believed to be building strength.

The right way to invest in stocks & bonds

Lots of people these days are planning to become investors for the first time. If you are one of them we'd like to recommend four steps to follow.

STEP ONE: Choose your broker with care. Many an unwary investor has regretted buying worthless stock from a stranger who delivered a high-pressure sales talk on the telephone. You'll be wise to visit a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Every Registered Representative there has met the Exchange's qualifications for knowledge of investing. He's not infallible—no one is. But he can help you choose sensibly from a wide variety of good securities.

STEP TWO: Follow these wise rules for investing. Use only money you don't need for living expenses or emergencies. And invest on the basis of facts—never on tips or rumors. You'll be wise to consider bonds, too, for their prices and income are normally more stable and may fit your situation. You can expect the price of both stocks and bonds to go down as well as up. And a company may run into trouble and stop paying a dividend or interest. You'll want to consider those with good records and those that appear to have the best prospects.

STEP THREE: Ask yourself this question: Which is most important to me—future growth, present income or safety of principal? Some companies may pay relatively high dividends. Others may pour back more of their profits in expansion, leaving less (perhaps nothing) available for dividends. Bonds usually provide a more stable income and greater safety of principal.

STEP FOUR: Send the coupon below for "DIVIDENDS OVER THE

Ribicoff Warns of Possible Radioactivity Hazard In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Radioactivity attributed to Russia's nuclear testing in the atmosphere has reached levels in 13 states would comprise a health hazard if maintained over a long period of time, Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said today.

The secretary's actual phrasing was a negative statement—that the hazard would not exist unless the level were long maintained—but a spokesman for his office said that language also covered the positive statement.

Ribicoff said field reports showed sharp increases in ground level atmospheric radioactivity over the weekend in 13 eastern and northern states.

"Although subject to laboratory confirmation, the size and pattern of these field estimates unquestionably represent fallout from the current series of Russian atmospheric nuclear tests, presumably the multi-megaton bursts that have been reported," he said.

"Careful laboratory and field analyses of the nature and ultimate disposition of the radioactive substances involved will be necessary."

"However, I am assured by the Public Health Service that unless radiation levels of this range are sustained over a long period of time, they do not pose a public health hazard."

The report for one city in each of 12 states and the District of Columbia, with the radioactivity in micromicrocuries per cubic meter of air as measured on Sept. 11 and then on Sept. 17, showed: Hartford, Conn., a jump from 1.7 on Sept. 11 to 65.8 on Sept. 17;

Gastonia, N. C., 15.18 and 72.6; 35.3; Indianapolis, 3.5 and 34; Baltimore 0.92 and 30.9; Lawrence, Mass., 1.05 and 25.3; Lansing, Mich., 1.8 and 28.7; Trenton, N. J., 1.54 and 35.26; Albany, N.Y., 2.73 and 46.3; Harrisburg, Pa., 2.7 and 35; Providence, R. I., .92 and 45.6; Columbia, S. C., 0.94 and 15; and Richmond, Va., 1.1 and 50.

Congress Chiefs Hail JFK's Decision To Address U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican congressional leaders applauded today President Kennedy's decision to address the United Nations.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, predicted Kennedy will place before the United Nations a new disarmament plan and call for fresh negotiations to end nuclear testing.

Kennedy's decision to fly to New York to address the new session of the U.N. General Assembly was announced Monday by the White House.

Kennedy probably will speak Friday or Monday, depending on the schedule adopted by the assembly.

A White House official said the death of U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold strengthened the President's desire to appear before the United Nations.

Kennedy believes, the spokesman said, that "now, at a time of crisis for the U.N., would be a good time to go there and affirm support of the U.N. and its principle."

Humphrey said he thinks it is vital in the light of Hammarskjold's death for Kennedy to rally the West's forces.

"I predict the President will lay down a total U.S. program for disarmament and review the efforts this country had made to get an agreement on the cessation of nuclear weapons testing and proclaim our willingness to negotiate such an agreement whenever the Soviets evidence a willingness to conduct serious negotiations," Humphrey said.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview he thinks Kennedy will be able to "invigorate the thinking" of U.N. members and "give them assurances of the steadfastness and firmness with which we stand behind the world organization."

How Are Your Nerves?

It is crossing the minds of many lately that there's nothing new about a war of nerves except the name.

Like most of the other things that men claim to have discovered about human nerves, the war that's waged with imagination was known ages ago.

If the tireless gadflies of the Kremlin could have their way they would have scared every non-Communist to death by their time. They would have convinced every Communist that all truth resided in the Kremlin, and they would have brain-washed all waverers to the point of helplessness.

This hasn't happened.

It isn't going to happen.

Those who know most about the way things are done inside the Soviet Union and Communist China are least nervous. They see the Communist movement for what it is—a forced-draft industrial revolution that squeezes extra work out of people by telling them it's done for the sake of ideology.

It's like an attempt to keep people fired up with war slogans throughout the duration of a long war. First the slogans wear thin, then they wear out. The war of nerves may hurt its perpetrators more than it hurts its victims.

THE FACT is that the Soviet Union never has had any interest in Communism as such, which has been experimented with only in experimental communes set up at various times in the United States.

Russia has made gigantic strides into the industrial era, peddling its idology like a patent medicine pitchman. But it has avoided using its own nostrum in therapeutic doses.

All this has been successfully concealed by one of the most fantastic projects of preying on human fear ever conceived. By taking advantage of every natural fear and creating unnatural fears where no natural ones existed, the psychological warriors of the Kremlin have peopled the world with goblins, spooks, ogres, imps and specters—all red.

These creations now are found under ever overturned rock. They lurk under beds and spring from behind trees.

They fill the news from Berlin, and when that crisis finally has passed and the Kremlin has created a new one, they will fill the news from there, too.

They spring out from places in the United States where no one ever suspected anything sinister before. Every objectionable move, every disputed word or thought immediately is pointed to as the suspected hiding place for one of these Kremlin-manufactured fears.

IT'S ALL PART of the war of nerves. Berlin is only part of it—the temporary focal point.

A few months ago it was Cuba. It has been Laos, Egypt, the Congo, Korea, Taiwan in the past. It will be Brazil, Mexico, Japan, India, Hawaii in the future.

But this isn't new for Americans—this relentless nibbling at the people's confidence. It has been tried against them before. In the 19th century it was being tried so relentlessly that the United States was driven to declare in the Monroe Doctrine that the Old World should quit trying to undermine the New World. Russia was working at it hard, then—czarist Russia.

Britain worked at it, first in the attempt to hold Americans in subjugation, later in an attempt to destroy their new government. France worked at it with a plot to take over Mexico for the Holy Alliance.

Spain would have liked to topple America, but was too decadent to do a good job. The Japanese had their turn. And of course the Germans and even the Italians, who never were cut out for this sort of thing.

WAR OF NERVES is not new.

Americans have endured wars of nerves before. They endured them at the hands of hostile Indians.

They sweat out the odds-against chances of survival on raw frontiers. But by keeping their nerves steady instead apart they managed to survive and prosper.

If at any time your nerves start to go to pieces under current stresses and strains, think back to the time of your great-great grandfather. He was surrounded by things that could destroy him, though he had been assured on the highest authority that atoms were forever unsplitable.

Facing A Moment of Truth

Every champion of free enterprise has sensed a moment of truth coming in the communication industry's effort to develop satellite systems.

A choice had to be made between free enterprise and captive enterprise. Either private companies would be given responsibility on their own initiative, or they would be given orders by the government.

It never was a question of the government, itself, vs. private companies, because the government lacked facilities. It was a question whether the job would be done by companies under agreement with one another, or by companies under government authority, with all terms dictated from Washington.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL says the question hasn't been answered, though the government decision was made in July to give free enterprise its chance.

The interested companies are so engrossed in cutting up each other and especially in cutting up American Telephone & Telegraph, the giant in the field, that they may force government intervention as a means of getting something done.

The Soviet Union may score another sensational first in the space age. International communication via earth satellites that would transmit messages over great distance is the most important use so far for the giant rockets that can put satellites into long-lasting orbits around the earth.

Here is the enigma of the enterprise system, which works best in the long run because of competition yet works badly in the short run for the same reason.

HERE IS THE CHALLENGE that enterprise faces when government control is the alternative—whether it can agree to quit disagreeing long enough to get things under way—whether it can agree at all without having some eager young lawyer from the antitrust division of the Justice Department breathing on its neck.

Private enterprise wants its chance in satellite communications. For once, government is willing to step aside. But if all this means is a chance for component elements in private enterprise to fight while Russian authoritarians go rocketing along to still more success, government control is the only alternative.

The communication industry's moment of truth is here as far as satellite systems are concerned.

America Sends Its Sympathy

To Irish, Swedish and Indian troops beleaguered in Katanga Province by ruthless opponents who want to destroy them, America sends sympathy with understanding. It sends sympathy to their loved ones at home.

With nominal exceptions, other nations can send only sympathy. Only American can understand how it feels to bear the brunt of a prolonged and bloody United Nations police action.

No soldier who risks death under the United Nations banner can forget his nationality. He must fight as what he is—an American or Irishman, a Swede, an Indian. If he dies, he must die as what he is. If his body is sent home, it will not be sent to the United Nations. It will be sent to the country that sent him away to fight.

His countrymen will not understand this. They will be troubled and vexed by what will appear to them as cross-purposes and negligence.

They will wonder querulously why their soldiers should bear the brunt of savage attacks and why other countries with equal status in the United Nations do not go forth with all the power at their command to subdue the enemy.

When told that the lives of their loved ones are being sacrificed for the sake of peace and that preservation of peace entails waging war under heavy mental and physical handicaps, they will doubt their ears and ask for explanations that won't be given.

Americans know this because they went through the torture of Korea, where 33,629 of their young men were killed in battle, another 20,197 died from other causes and 103,284 were wounded.

It never was clear why Americans bore the brunt in Korea. It never was clear what was derived of lasting value from so many deaths and so much destruction. It isn't clear how the United States stumbled into the Korea War or whether it ever will find its way out of it. American boys are still in Korea, still under the banner of the United Nations, still waiting for the possibility of savage attack.

America sends sympathy and understanding to Ireland, Sweden and India. But it sends no solution to the problem of how to enforce U.N. policies without bloodshed, and it sends no defense of U.N. policies that embroil peacemakers in civil wars.

New Season For 'Y'

The YWCA, which fills an important place in our community as an activity center, begins its new season Wednesday with registration for the various classes and programs that are offered.

The YW seems to increase in popularity each year and the new calendar of events indicates equal patronage by young and old alike. In Salem, fortunately, men are included in the eligible membership and more are expected to sign up for the activities soon to commence.

Thinking of registering? Wednesday's the night.

Role of The PTA

Everyone knows that school has resumed for the 1961-62 term but not everybody knows the importance of parent-teacher relationship which are at their best when the Parent-Teacher Association meetings are under way at the various schools.

The PTA season is about to commence, with open house programs being scheduled as a "first night" entertainment.

It's not so much of an entertainment, however, as it is a get-together between parents and teachers who should work together toward the real objective, that of educating the child. And in the PTA a closer bond between parents and the teachers develops.

Every parent interested in the welfare of his or her child will attend not only the first PTA meeting but the others as well.

"Who's Your Leader?"

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

On the morning of Sept. 7, President Kennedy approved a telegram to 12 men which declared war on the steel industry.

Victor Riesel

As in all wars, there was a series of events leading up to the firing of the first shot—the ricocheting of which won't end for a year.

This first shot may, in fact, touch off a war not alone with steel but with all of U.S. industry.

For months now the President and the secretary of labor, Arthur Goldberg and White House economists have been discussing strategy for freezing prices.

They decided on the tactic of public assault. In effect, the White House would openly dare industry to raise the tabs on its merchandise.

ON SEPT. 6, in line with this decision, President Kennedy signed 12 letters to the heads of the major steel corporations. They were mailed while copies were quietly "leaked" to several newsmen.

The letters, urging the steel industry not to raise prices, arrived in the regular mail the secretary of labor's desks in the steel company offices during the morning hours of Sept. 7. Most of the steel company presidents and board chairmen were out.

About 11:30 a.m., these were followed by a telegram from Pierre Salinger. Since the press, said

Salinger, had gotten wind of the President's letters, the White House would release them to avoid confusion.

The telegram had come just a few hours too late. Newsmen already had placed calls to such men as Roger Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel and Arthur Homer, chairman of Bethlehem Steel.

There had been no advance notice of the presidential letters. None of the company chiefs had been quietly called in and first asked to freeze prices. Most of them did not know of the communication until they read of it in the newspapers.

Mr. Salinger's wire merely sent tempers higher than the 93-degree heat.

THE STEEL COMPANIES then returned the favor. The paper war began. Bethlehem Steel replied by mail—and the President could have read it all in the press. U.S. Steel hand delivered its answer at noon Sept. 13—by which had leaked into city rooms.

The White House now complained that all this was not fair. President Kennedy had expected the companies to reply en masse, at one time. Nor was he pleased with the fact that the companies were telling him his Council of Economic Advisers was not really that well informed, and that the unions were showing as little restraint as a teen-ager with her first lipstick.

With the first volley over, we war correspondents began wondering how it would affect the steel industry's negotiations with the steel union next spring.

WOULD THERE BE another long steel strike? There will be if the prices are frozen and Dave McDonald's United Steelworkers demand another big pay-package—as has Walter Reuther.

This isn't guesswork. There was a speech made by Conrad Cooper, U.S. Steel executive vice president, last July 14. I dug it out from where I had tucked it away when I flew off to another barbed front.

In it Mr. Cooper in effect, tells Arthur Goldberg that neither the labor secretary nor the administration appear to know how to settle disputes.

"Many people," said Cooper, "have been quite disturbed by the rapidity with which Washington has intervened in several labor disputes during the first months of the new administration."

COOPER STATES that under the present circumstances the unions are more powerful than industry. He disagrees with Goldberg's formula for industrial peace—a formula which calls for use of the President's 21-man labor-management board and the admission of public representatives to the bargaining table.

All this would lead to "government control of virtually all major bargaining, a stepping stone for the establishment and enforcement of national wage and price policies."

Then, answering charges by labor that industry had developed a hard policy, Cooper said:

"If the term 'soft policy' points in the direction of appeasement and an attitude of 'labor peace at any price,' then surely this extreme must be ruled out as being unworthy. . . . There is no room for soft heads in this field of endeavor. . . ."

It does look like a lot more will be hot on the steel front than the blast furnaces.

Canada Speeds Up CD

By LANGEVIN COTE

Berlin Crisis Boosts Interest In Survival Plans

OTTAWA—Canada, a country which has not known war on its homeland for almost a century-and-a-half, in addition to measures announced recently to increase its armed forces, is accelerating civil defense plans.

The deterioration of the Berlin situation has produced a sharp increase in interest on the part of the government and to some extent of the public in problems of survival.

Planning, already considered to have come a long way in the relatively short space of time during which Canada has shown signs of wanting to take civil defense seriously, is now being considerably speeded.

There remain weak spot and even serious failings, in the program, and in many fields the effort has been as effective only as the weakest of the three links—Federal, Provincial and municipal—in the country's chain of government.

THERE HAS been hesitation, too, even on the part of the federal government. It has recommended that people build fallout shelters; but its approach has been half-hearted, the government not even providing these facilities for its employees occupying public housing, let alone building public shelters.

In many fields, however, officials, consider that progress has been satisfactory. The installation of warning systems is proceeding rapidly. Direct teleprinter facilities—supplemented by radio—linking provincial warning centers across the country to the federal headquarters are considered among the fastest anywhere, despite tremendous problems of distance.

Last month the army, assigned the major responsibility for civilian rescue, began manning alternates across the country at centers away from potential target areas.

At the same time it began preparing permanent rescue headquarters for each of the major cities, this also outside potential areas of destruction.

CIVILIAN AUTHORITIES, too, are prepared, if need be, to move key personnel to temporary facilities pending the construction of permanent emergency centers of government.

In their preparations, officials faced problems peculiar to Canada beyond the already massive ones associated with survival anywhere in a nuclear war. There are the great distances and the severity of the winters.

Medical officials estimating needs and stockpiling emergency supplies say, somewhat ruefully, that casualty depots could expect few seriously injured persons to reach treatment centers alive in very cold weather, unless they were rescued almost immediately.

Canada has not known war since 1812, when it fought against the United States. Any feeling of domestic security there might have been in that regard has been dispelled by its geographical situation between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

Canada's clear commitment to the Western alliance would leave the country little hope of escaping unscathed in a global conflict. Even if Canada escaped direct enemy action, officials say that fallout could still be a serious threat to millions of Canadians. It could drift into Canada from detonations in the U.S.

UNTIL TWO YEARS ago Canadian civil defense had been developed essentially to reduce the impact of bombing upon civilians. It relied extensively on volunteers to deal with the activities which would arise from such attacks.

Even within this limited goal the program was haphazard and, on the whole, ineffective. The destructive potential of nuclear weapons rendered even the concept meaningless.

It was only two years ago that this realization dawned on the government with the need to do something about it.

Federal officials in turn asked that provincial and local authorities do their share. But, while some regional and local authorities have shown diligence in civil defense planning, others have been hard to move, despite the fact that the central government has offered to pay most of the cost.

But as the Berlin crisis deepens there are signs that all levels of government—and many of the public—are beginning to take their responsibilities seriously.

Survival officials, who must learn to play for the worst and hope for the best, are making the most of the opportunity. If the Berlin crisis is finally resolved, Canada's home defenses, they say, will be left that much stronger. If the crisis explodes at least the country will be that better prepared.

Way To Stay Young

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"The best way to stay young," said Fredric March, "is to regard the world as a workshop."

At 64 March, still physically trim and one of the handsomest men in show business, has no desire to sit in a front porch rocker waiting for Uncle Sam to send him his Social Security check.

Neither he nor his wife, Florence Eldridge—for a generation they've been one of the nation's best known theatrical couples—plans retirement, or regards it as a rainbow blessing.

"Maybe the youngsters have time to daydream about retiring," said March. "But not us."

"We're tapering off a little, but we both feel that if we don't keep growing by trying new things we'll vegetate—and that is no existence."

"I feel sorry for business men who are retired automatically. To have to close your desk on your 65th birthday, when you are really the same you were the day before—that is tragic."

"It is better to taper off, to let go gradually."

It is hard to see where March is tapering off. Winner of two Academy awards, he recently completed his 65th film, "The Young Doctors." He is now rehearsing for a role in the new Broadway play, "Gideon," which may be his 81st or 101st stage vehicle.

"I'm not sure which it is," he said. "I never kept track of them."

March switched to acting after he found a youthful career as an embryo bank executive stultifying. An attack of appendicitis gave him the leisure, while recuperating, to decide to gamble on a life in the theater.

I proved a rewarding choice in more ways than one. As a film matinee idol March played against most of the top feminine stars of his time, ranging from Clara Bow to Tallulah Bankhead, Greta Garbo and Kim Novak.

As long ago as 1937 the U.S. Treasury listed him as the fifth top-salaried man in the nation. He got $484,687 that year.

His 40-plus years in the entertainment field have given March some theories on survival.

"To last you have to keep healthy in body and mentally alive," he observed. "You have to keep interested in other people, and to remember that you are no bigger an actor than you are a person."

"I think it's unwise if you become too involved in just the amusement world. You warp yourself as a person if you do. That is a pitfall to avoid."

"The more interested you become in others the better you become in your own job."

The boredom and ennui that afflict some actors hasn't touched March, and he doubts that it ever will. He added:

"Acting can be a very healthy life. Many actors live to be quite old, and as for actresses—well, they seem to last forever."

Forbidden Waters

Dear Ann: Our son is a medical student who is going to school four quarters a year so he won't "waste any time."

He's an excellent scholar, hard working and serious. He appreciates the sacrifices his father and I have made so he can enter this wonderful profession.

His girl friend has been making his life miserable. She is always mad at him because he can see her only two evenings a week and on Sunday afternoons. He becomes depressed because she bawls him out all the time for being such a bookworm. I'm afraid her nagging will interfere with his studies unless someone gives her a better understanding of what a young man must go through to become a doctor.

Do you think it would help if I phoned her and set her straight? He would be very nice and merely explain the facts.—MED STUDENT'S MOM.

Dear Mom: Keep your oar out of those forbidden waters. When your son has had a gullet full of this girl's selfish demands he'll give her the gate. Anything you say or do would be

Dear Ann Landers: Some close friends have a lovely home. We enjoy their company but it's gotten to the point that we hate to go over there because of the way they inflict their children on the guests.

Here's the routine: No sooner do we arrive than the 10-year-old has to recite "The Gettysburg Address" plus three or four elocution pieces. Then the 8-year-old plays a 20-minute piano program. The 6-year-old is "in the wings" in her ballet costume and we must watch "The Dance of the Pussies Willows" and her version of "The Swan."

Last night it was 10 o'clock before they got the kids off stage so the adults could visit. My husband says he's not going to suffer through another such evening. I know we'll be invited again soon. What shall I say?—ENOUGHVILLE.

Dear Enoughville: If they are close friends you should be able to level with the hostess. If you do, it will be a good test of the friendship.

If they value your company they'll respect your husband's point of view and stash the kids before you arrive. If not, they'll interpret your candor as an in-

The hurricane was expected to come within range of the powerful Cape Hatteras for the first time about noon.

Although Esther no longer is believed to be producing gusts as high as 200 m.p.h., as she was over the weekend, the storm is still a huge and dangerous one.

The storm has slowed slightly from 16 to 14 m.p.h.

The Georgia and Florida coasts were clear of the storm, but all interests from Savannah, Ga., northward were told to listen for future advisories.

Forecaster Gilbert Clark said indications were the storm would continue on its present path for the next few hours with no important changes in size or direction.

Persons in the path of the storm already were taking precautions. The Navy sent 240 airplanes to inland fields and a number of ships left Norfolk, Va., as precautionary measures.

The aircraft carriers Randolph, Wasp and Valley Forge put to sea and other naval vessels headed for anchorage in Chesapeake Bay to escape the fury of the winds.

Two Texas towers off the New England coast were evacuated. The towers are radar stations that form part of the U.S.-Canadian defense warning system.

Controversy also was mounting over a move to unite Episcopalians with other Christian denominations.

Certain to trigger sharp debate is a far-reaching proposal by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Presbyterian clergyman, for a merger of his church with the Episcopalians, the Methodists and the United Church of Christ.

Hammarskjöld was on his way to discuss a cease-fire between U.N. and Katanga forces with Katanga President Moise Tshombe when disaster struck.

A U.N. spokesman said neither gunfire nor sabotage could be ruled out. British and Rhodesian authorities launched an investigation.

As the bodies of Hammarskjöld and the other victims were brought to the Ndola hospital mortuary, the world's uneasy capitals worried about the effect of his death on the United Nations.

Tributes were paid to Hammarskjöld and his ceaseless labors for peace around the world. In many parts of Europe and elsewhere, fears were expressed that his death and Soviet stalling tactics might jeopardize the future of the United Nations.

In New York, the U.N. General Assembly was opening one of its most crucial sessions. Western diplomats strove to prevent the Soviet Union, arch foe of Hammarskjöld, from paralyzing the United Nations' work by delaying the appointment of a successor.

Hammarskjöld's death prompted President Kennedy to decide to go before the United Nations Friday or Monday to affirm "at a time of crisis for the United Nations," support for the United Nations and its principles, a White House spokesman said.

Hammarskjöld's death posed grave problems for the United Nations and its Congo operation. He had been a major cementing factor in the world organization and the U.N. Congo force was his own idea to keep the new nation from lapsing into anarchy.

The search for his successor must be conducted under Communist pressure to replace the office of secretary-general with a three-man board of Communist, neutral and Western representatives, each with a veto.

eral. A year ago Premier Khrushchev personally led a fight to replace Hammarskjöld with a three-man board.

It may turn out that Khrushchev will try to lump his demands for reorganization of the United Nations with his demands on the Western Allies in the Berlin crisis, backing both with his nuclear weapons power.

Cite Assembly Power Rusk and Stevenson decided, however, that they should try to devise some means of protecting the United Nations as much as possible against the damage of a prolonged battle over Hammarskjöld's successor.

In consultation with leaders of other friendly delegations they encouraged the idea that the power to act urgently could be found in the General Assembly where the veto does not exist.

Diplomats familiar with this developing plan said the objective would not be to name an acting secretary-general but rather to set up a caretaker administration under an official empowered to carry out the directives of the Security Council and the assembly until a secretary-general can be named.

Let's talk about vitamins

Vitamins are the one product you must take on faith. You can't see them, taste them or smell them. That's why it's doubly important always to buy vitamins in a DRUG store, where you have specialists to advise you and where you are assured of getting full value for your money. (Some non-drug-store outlets, you know, charge from four to ten times as much for vitamins of the same potency your pharmacist offers.) So, get the very good habit of buying all health items at a DRUG store—this one.

State Rep. Bettis Speaks At County WCTU Meeting

State Representative J. Warren Bettis was guest speaker and officers were re-elected at the 71st annual convention of the Columbiana County Woman's Christian Temperance Union Friday at the Free Methodist Campground, East Liverpool.

Rep. Bettis is one of the authors of House Bill No. 232, which makes the sale of liquor gift certificates unlawful and also prohibits the construction of drive-in liquor stores. This bill, passed by both the house and senate at the last session of the state legislature, was not signed by Gov. Michael DiSalle, Rep. Bettis explained. However, it does become effective Oct. 7, 1961.

The state liquor control board is promoting the sale of liquor, and not controlling its sale, according to the state representative, who gave facts and figures on the operation of this department. "The appropriation for operation of the department of liquor control for the 1962-1963 biennium is $24,777,980," the speaker said.

Mrs. Donald M. Mayhew of RD 2, Salem, county president, who arranged the convention program, presented the speaker. Members of the Calcutta Union were hostesses.

Re-elected officers are: President, Mrs. Mayhew; vice president, Mrs. Lloyd Lewton, Lisbon; treasurer, Miss Josephine Dunn, RD 2, Salem; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Herman C. Stratton, Salem; recording secretary, Miss Pearl Walker, Salem. Mrs. Earl Ruble of RD 1, Hanoverton, gave the dedication prayer.

The directors are as follows: Mrs. Ruble, Mrs. Nettie Stark and Rev. Constance Gough of Salem; Mrs. Clifford Kerr and Mrs.

Lydia Miles of Damascus; Mrs. Olive McCormick of RD 1, Leetonia; Mrs. Mayhew, Mrs. Lewton and Miss Dunn; Mrs. Adlanda Fitz Randolph and Mrs. Lola Williams of East Palestine; Mrs. William Hathorn of East Liverpool; Mrs. Beulah Mick of RD 2, East Liverpool, and Mrs. Bessie Pike of Rogers.

The Salem and Winona Unions tied for the county banner, which is awarded the Union having the largest net gain in membership for the fiscal year.

Mrs. Stratton conducted the memorial service. The county lost 10 members by death the past year.

The slogan for this year is "Do Double in '62" and the date of the membership drive is Nov. 12-19, 1961.

Mrs. Mayhew, and Mrs. Carl E. Dunn, president of the Calcutta Union, will represent the county at the state convention scheduled Oct. 24-27 at Columbus.

Six unions were represented at the county convention, Damascus, East Palestine, Lisbon, Salem, Winona and Calcutta.

Measure May Allow NFL TV Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed to the Senate a bill that would permit the National Football League to skip around a legal block and grant a league-wide contract for television coverage of its games.

The measure, approved in the House Monday by a voice vote, applies to all professional sports leagues—baseball, basketball and hockey as well as football—but it was custom-designed for the NFL, whose television plans were ruled out of bounds by a Philadelphia federal court.

The court ruled earlier this year that the NFL's TV contract with the CBS network violated antitrust laws.

The American Football League has a similar contract with the ABC network which has not been struck down by the courts. The NFL official argued that this was unfair and that they should be given equal footing with the rival league.

The bill now under Senate scrutiny would exempt such contracts from antitrust laws, with certain restrictions.

League officials testifying in support of the measure said if league-wide television contracts were outlawed, the stronger, richer teams would tend to get most of the TV coverage and money. This, they said, would wreck the weaker teams and hurt the league.

The National Association of Broadcasters oppose the bill, contending that league-wide contracts would result in fewer sports telecasts, rather than more.

The House Judiciary Committee agreed to an amendment aimed at keeping pro telecasts from competing directly with telecasts of college games. It would prohibit pro football telecasts on Friday evening and Saturday when the college teams usually play.

Most NFL games are played on Sunday afternoons.

If the Senate acts on the measure before adjournment, its effect still would not be felt until the 1962 season.

Reduced Practice Schedule May Aid OSU Grid Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's gridgers start once-a-day practice sessions today, and that in itself may help the injury-riddled Buckeyes from doing themselves any more damage.

The Bucks have been practicing twice a day, and the double drills gave them more chance to get hurt.

A number of first stringers missed Monday's drill due to minor injuries or illness, but Coach Woody Hayes appeared particularly concerned about end Bob Middleton of Marion, who has been suffering with a rib separation.

"He's had only one or two practices this fall and the other boys are getting way ahead of him," Hayes said. "I don't know whether he'll be able to catch up."

Other first stringers missing all or part of the session included end Chuck Bryant of Zanesville, hospitalized with a virus infection; halfback Bob Klein of Athens, Mich., who sprained an ankle Monday; quarterback Bill Mrukowski of Elyria, down with the flu and halfback Matt Snell of Locust Valley, N.Y., who injured his knee last Friday.

"Esther" May Benefit Maris' HR Assault

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Roger Maris, with Dame Fortune and Lady Esther looming just as big as the determined Baltimore pitchers, resumes his chase of Babe Ruth's home run record tonight as the New York Yankees start a four-game series with the Orioles.

The magic number both for Maris and the Yanks is two. Rappin' Roger, with 58, is two short of the magic 60 that made Ruth baseball's all-time home run king in 1927. The Yanks, 10½ games ahead of the runner-up Detroit Tigers, need two victories or two Detroit losses to clinch their 26th American League pennant.

Possible Rain Tonight

Whether Maris can reach 60 will be answered before the Yanks leave town — providing Hurricane Esther permits any baseball the next couple days. The weatherman looks for possible heavy rain tonight if Esther continues at her current pace.

The schedule here calls for a two-night doubleheader today, and single night games Wednesday and Thursday. Commissioner Ford Frick has ruled that Ruth's record can be matched or broken only within a limit of 154 team decisions.

If Maris matches or tops the record beyond 154 team decisions under the league's 162-game schedule Frick says, the mark will go into the record book accompanied by an asterisk — denoting a record only for a season longer than the one in effect when Ruth hit his 60.

"Stingy" Pitches

Esther permitting, the 154th Yankee team decision will be the third game of the current series. Maris is faced with the task of hitting two or three in a ballpark notoriously reluctant to yield home runs and against a pitching staff that throws few gopher balls, particularly at home. In 75 home games, Baltimore pitchers have allowed only 42 home runs—by far the stingiest yield in the league.

The lefty-swinging Maris has hit only one home run off the Orioles—none here at Memorial Stadium, where the right field fence swings sharply out to 382 feet from a 309-foot mark at the foul line.

Left-hander Steve Barber (16-11 with seven shutouts) and Skippy Brown, a knuckleballing right-hander with a 10-4 record, are scheduled to pitch tonight against the Yanks' Whitey Ford (24-3) and Bud Daley (11-17). Milt Pappas (12-8), a right-hander, is the scheduled pitcher Wednesday.

Would Like to See Record Broken

Brown said, "Personally I would like to see Maris break Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers."

He added hastily: "But I'd hate to be the one to throw the ball."

Brown, 36, said he wouldn't try anything to avoid having Maris hit a homer.

"I won't walk him on purpose," he promised. "I'll just throw them and pray just like everybody else."

Hutchinson Selects O'Toole To Face Pittsburgh Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson figures Jim O'Toole could pitch the Cincinnati Reds back to the pennant path tonight against Pittsburgh.

But O'Toole had a warning Monday night from his boss to expect big trouble from the 1960 world champs.

"They'll be loose and easy and carefree and they can hurt us,"

Browns Physically Fit For Cardinals

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will be in good physical shape for Sunday's home opener against the St. Louis Cardinals, with the exception of offensive end Rich Kreitling who has a rib injury.

Kreitling didn't play in Sunday's 27-20 loss to the National Football League champion Philadelphia Eagles, but rookie Charley (High-pockets) Ferguson did a capable job as a replacement. Coach Paul Brown said Ferguson will be in the lineup again for the Cardinals' contest.

What seemed to be an easy game against injury-riddled St. Louis has suddenly taken on shape of a tough struggle for the Browns. The Cards upset the New York Giants 27-10 in Yankee Stadium and displayed surprising offensive power.

Philadelphia pitcher Art Mahaffey learned Monday he suffered a skull fracture from a thrown ball in the ninth inning of Sunday's game against the Reds.

Mahaffey was to stay in Christ Hospital here for at least four more days.

Mahaffey, thrown out at second base in the game was hit by a throw as Eddie Kasko tried to double the man at first base.

Last Year's Top 6 Remain Unbeaten

HighSchoolGridChampions Making Strong Bid Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Last year's leaders are making another strong bid for Ohio's high school football championship.

The six top teams in the final "Top 10" Associated Press poll of 1960 are still unbeaten. The last four have fallen.

Two-time winners have popped up all over the state, and some of them will move into the elite listing when the Associated Press offers the first of its polls following this weekend's games.

Top 10 To Be Picked
The sports editors of the state's Associated Press newspapers, radio and television stations will rate the squads, each picking a "Top 10" from which the composite selections will be made.

At season's end, the winner of the final poll will be recognized by the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association as the state champion, and will receive the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy emblematic of the crown.

Massillon, which grabbed the title for the 'steenth time last fall despite a loss to Warren in 11 starts, again looms as the team to beat — although Niles McKinley's high-scoring combine will make a determined bid.

Portsmouth Rebuilding
Others which have won a pair include Hamilton Garfield, which could be the dominant factor in Southwestern Ohio circles, and Portsmouth's surprising Trojans.

This was to be a rebuilding year for Portsmouth, which has only six seniors on the entire squad—but the underclassmen have surprised everyone by grabbing the first two tilts.

In many cases the top teams have scheduled less-experienced foes in the openers, but the picture will clear as the favorites bang into each other in the stretch drive.

Massillon, usually too tough for most of Ohio's scholastic squads, is looking for three opponents for 1962. The Tigers would like to book games on the Massillon field for Sept. 7, Sept. 21 and Oct. 12 next year all Friday evenings.

Faculty Manager of Athletics Roger Price said.

Tokyo — Sadao Yaoita, 118½, Japan outpointed Kozo Nagata, 121, Japan, 10.

Niles Team Forfeits

Palkovic's, Stepanic's Advance In Tourney

Youngstown Palkovic Ins. showed across two runs in the last half of the seventh inning to eliminate the Alliance Armvets from the Salem Invitational Softball Tournament by handing them a 5-4 setback in action Monday night.

Alliance had been trounced by Double XX Bar, one of the few remaining undefeated teams, 13-0 Saturday for its first loss in the double-elimination tourney.

The winners shoved across lone runs in the first, third and fifth innings before wrapping it up in the final stanza. The losers' runs came in the first three innings.

Ray James was the big man at the plate for the winners as he smacked out two hits including a triple. Floyd Warltuff was three-for-four at the plate for the Amvets.

James was credited with the win, while A. V. Myers was given the loss.

In other action Monday, Niles while Stepanic advanced to the Fenton St. Bar forfeited to Kensington Stepanic Tavern.

In action tonight, Herron Transfer will battle Old Dutch at 7 p.m. in the second game of a three-game series to decide which team will meet Stepanic in the finals of the Class AA City Softball League.

Herron won the first game finals by sweeping a series from Shaffer Ford. In Invitational play, Hillcrest Tavern will meet Stepanic Tavern at 8 p.m.

Wednesday action will pit Midland Local 1212 against Palkovic insurance at 8 p.m., and Herron Transfer against Old Dutch in AA playoffs if needed at 7 p.m.

Erdelatz Fired As Raiders Coach

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Eddie Erdelatz, the only football name the Oakland Raiders had when they started last year no longer has a job with the American Football League club.

After his team lost 55-0 and 44-0 to Houston and San Diego in the league openers, Eddie drew his walking papers from the Raider owners. His assistant, Marty Feldman, was named to succeed him.

Last year Erdelatz, a winning coach at Navy, moulded a team from what was termed "a bunch of guys named Joe," and finished better than three other clubs. Since Oakland was the last club formed and missed the draft meeting last year, not much was expected of it.

This year the Raiders have won only once—losing three exhibition tilts and the two league games against the teams that won the division titles in the AFL for 1960.

Erdelatz resigned from the Naval Academy football job in 1958 after nine successful seasons and a disagreement with officials there. Last year he was named Oakland coach at a time he had no players. His club won six and lost eight in the inaugural season.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

You Can Flouridate Your Water At Home

Q—Our community water supply is not fluoridated. Can anything be done in any other way to prevent dental caries? How effective are fluoridated dentifrices?

A—You can fluoridate your own drinking water by adding 1 mg. fluoride tablet to each quart. This provides a concentration of one part per million. You may use this solution for drinking or for food preparation or infant formula.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

The daily supply needed for the prevention of dental caries will be delivered to infants and children below the age of three years if they drink a pint. Older children and adults require a quart. To get optimum protection, fluoridation must be carried out for seven to 12 years.

As to fluoridated dentifrices, there is little possibility that they deliver the amount of fluoride required for protection. Indeed, I am of the opinion that there is little accomplished by dentifrices of any kind. Used vigorously, they only succeed in thinning protective enamel.

They do not remove food particles from between the teeth as effectively as dental floss. The medications they contain (so-called bactericides, antiseptics, etc.) are not present in sufficient concentration to make any significant contribution to mouth hygiene.

Dependence on them and the equally useless mouthwashes, gargles, etc., gives a false sense of security to the user who might better devote his energies to effective use of dental floss.

Q—Of what value is the Gerson treatment for cancer?

A—None. The claim that the specially devised diet (liver, fresh vegetables and fruit, chopped in a special machine costing about $150) exerts any influence whatsoever on the development or growth of a malignancy is as fanciful as it is ridiculous. The addition of liver injections and coffee

Business, 1961: Looking Up---

Gross national product (value of all goods and services) rose about 3 per cent in the first quarter of 1961.

Average hourly wages of production workers rose slightly in June to $2.25, six cents higher than in 1960.

Business plans to spend $34.5 billion on expansion in 1961, a decline of 3 per cent from that spent in 1960.

Total expenditures for new building increased in June. Outlays for both private and public construction rose.

enemas to this absurd diet makes no significant difference unless the patient happens to have an accompanying anemia of a special type.

Just before his death in 1958, Dr. Gerson was suspended by the New York State Medical Society for insistence on his claim. More recently, the American Cancer Society reported that it "found no acceptable evidence that treatment with the Gerson method results in any objective benefit in the treatment of cancer in humans."

Q—My daughter-in-law has just returned from the hospital with her first baby. She was told it is better for the baby to lie on its stomach than on its back. Is this true? Is it safe?

A—It is both true and safe. Observations made at the Episcopal Hospital of Philadelphia showed that babies who are placed face down suffer fewer diaper rashes (10 per cent) than those placed on their backs (28 per cent), develop fewer scratch marks (20 against 27 per cent) and cry only half as long and as much.
